

Abstract

Apparatus is disclosed for reconstructing a ligament, the apparatus including a bone fixation element having a central bore and adapted for positioning in a bone tunnel, a flexible filament configured for holding a graft ligament, and a crimp configured for attachment to the flexible filament so as to prevent movement of the graft ligament in the bone tunnel.

W:\13447\46\DFW0000014097V001.doc